King And Queen Of Elementary School

Abbitt Assails Administration Bill As "Hasty, Ill Considered"

WASHINGTON — Representative Watkins M. Abbitt (D-VA.) soundly assailed the Administration's civil rights bill shortly after it was reported by the House Judiciary Committee on October 29.

In a sharply - worded statement, the Fourth District Congressman charged that the majority of the Committee which voted to approve the bill had thwarted the rights of those members who opposed the bill and had acted "like the Communist Presidium in Moscow upon the cracking of a Khrushchev whip."

The Virginian said he was shocked that a Congressional committee "would take such arbitrary, hasty and ill - considered action on a matter of such great importance."

He asserted that the Committee had approved a 55-page bill in less than three hours and reported it to the House with little regard for the normal procedure. "It demonstrates once again," Abbitt said, "that we are in the midst of hysteria — yes, political hysteria."

The Appomattox Congressman said that despite press reports, the bill as reported is not "toned down to any great extent." He said "the whole underlying principle in the bill is the same and has been the same all along."

Abbitt called the bill "the most iniquitous, dangerous, liberty - destroying proposal that has ever been reported to the Congress by one of its committees since Reconstruction days." He charged that the bill is "clearly unconstitutional in many instances" and "deprives citizens of America of the right to control the use of their own private property; prevents our people from choosing their own associates; and foists upon us a police state — a Hitler Gestapo."

The Congressman said that "the real purpose of the legislation is to set up a superclass of citizens, free from any duties and obligations of citizenship with special privileges and rights, to the great detriment of the overwhelming majority of the American people. It is intended to purchase — the political support of minority groups. Our Constitution is being perverted and destroyed for political expediency."

Abbitt said that he intends to fight the bill "with every ounce of energy I possess" and asserted that the real purposes of the legislation "are being shrouded in a publicity campaign conducted by the Administration to make people think that this is a softened approach."

Make-Up Wins Steak

Local Lions seemed to go "all-out" to win points for their team in the just completed attendance contest. Lion George Abbitt went to Rustburg just to "make-up" a meeting, and another member said he had paid out $3.00 in meals, trying to avoid paying the $5.00 the steak dinner will cost. Abbitt's team won — and the other Lion will pay a "Lion's share" — as a member of losing team.

"My bookcase is a wonder house, Where kings and queens and fairies dwell,
Perhaps when I am sound asleep
They stay awake and secrets tell.
Since books are friends I love the best —
I would not care to stay at all
In any house — not even ours—
Without my books around the wall" —

BOOKS ARE FUN — Come, let's read!

GOOD FOR A SECOND LOOK

A long, lanky, hatless individual in a state of joyful inebriation came sailing merrily into the City Hall, and dropped anchor before the window of the Registrar of Births and Deaths.

"Good - morning, gentlemen," he sang out: "I wanna register the birth (hic) of twins."

"Why do you say 'gentlemen'?" asked the man behind the window, "Can't you see I'm alone here?"

"Alone?" shouted the astonished father. "Only one of you? Then I'd better go home and take another look. Maybe it isn't (hic) twins after all."
